This page is for social workers who qualified outside the UK, who want to register to work in Wales.

If you've ever been registered with:

- Social Work England
- Scottish Social Services Council
- Northern Ireland Social Care Council

you must email internationallyqualified@socialcare.wales before you apply to let us know you want to apply with us. You won't need to have your qualification assessed for a second time.

Before you apply

You must:

- already hold the certificate for your qualification in social work
- have evidence of at least 130 days of supervised and assessed social work practice or post qualifying social work experience.
- We'll check that your qualification and social work experience fits the Welsh degree framework and the UK agreed subject benchmarks for social work.

We don't need evidence of your English language proficiency for registration. But employers may have their own requirements, so discuss this with them directly.

If you're returning to social work practise after three years or more, you'll need to:

- show your knowledge and understanding of contemporary social work practice
- meet the requirements of returning to practise.

Other UK regulatory bodies

If you decide to work outside of Wales, you will need to contact the regulatory body for that country.

In the UK these are:

- Social Work England
- Northern Ireland Social Care Council \(NISCC\)
- Scottish Social Services Council \(SSSC\).

Completing the internationally qualified application

If this is your first time registering in the UK, you'll need to complete the qualification equivalency form.

Make sure you provide the full details of your:

- supervised and assessed practice placements
- post qualifying social work employments.

The information should include contact details for the supervising and assessing social worker from your placements. Alternatively, this could be a contact from your qualifying university.

Complete the application to register

You need to create an account on our SCWonline website to complete the application to register.

Documents

You need to:

- get copies signed and dated by a recognised individual who's seen the original versions
- provide confirmation that you intend to practise in Wales
- if possible, provide evidence of your most recent criminal records check

- pay the fee of £350.

You must upload or email copies to your SCWonline account of your:

- verified ID documents
- verified qualification certificate
- verified course transcript
- verified supporting evidence
- qualification equivalency assessment form (if not already done).

Endorsing your application

Make sure you read our endorsement guidance.

If you're already working in Wales the online application asks you to select the person who will verify your identity documents and endorse your application. This is from a list of approved individuals.

If you're not already working in Wales you'll need to enter your endorser's details manually. You'll need to print the application form and take it to your endorser to check, sign and date. Then scan and upload this signed version to your SCWonline account.

Fees

You'll need to pay a fee when you apply to register. Find out more on our fees page.
